THE LIGHT OF GLEN FRUIN.

The sun on the hillow
In glory reposes,
And his watery pillow
Is garnished with roses;
The cloud of his twilight
Is low down the streamling,
It will fill my young Flora,
The light of Glen Fruin.

Any, by the cottage
That stands beneath the mountain—
Aver by the dark pine,
That flows over the fountain,
On the banks of the streamlet
That girdles yon ruin—
I'll meet my young Flora,
The light of Glen Fruin.

Thou maid of the mountain
I love thee—how well
My love-burnt eye
And my pale cheek can tell,
I must love thee for ever,
Though 'twere my undoing,
The pride of the hamlet,
Thou light of Glen Fruin.

By the soft beaming ray
That gleams from those eyes,
By that love blushing cheek,
By those morning rights,
By the bright tear of rapture
Those eye-lashes dewing—
Thou art mine—thou art mine—
Dearest maid of Glen Fruin.

IDOLS.

What is an idol? Every breast
Has idols of its own!
Sometimes of gold and silver bright,
Sometimes of wood and stone—
And there are idols—sins we mean—
Which young and old adore;
O God of mercy, in thy love
Destroy them ever more.

If there be aught the world contains,
Which I love more than thee,
That sinful love within my heart
Idolatry must be.

Then take that sinful love away,
And place thy love within;
And break down every image there
That bears the shape of sin.

O give me with a contrite mind,
To bend before thy throne;
And offer humble prayer and praise
Through Jesus Christ alone.

Deeply inscribed upon my heart
Let thy commandments be;
That there may live within my breast,
No other God but Thee.

BRILLIANT NAVAL EXPLOIT.

During the present contest between Don Miguel and his brother for the throne of Portugal, much has been said of the Don John VI. the flag ship of the former. The following amusing account of her history, and how she crossed the Atlantic, is copied from a late number of the London Globe. If true, it will account for the recent do-nothing performance of the same vessel.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

The Portuguese ships of war have always been, for the elegance of their construction, the admiration of our naval officers. In 1818, the Don John VI. was launched; she is a very handsome ship, rated at 120 guns, but capable of carrying more. She was put into commission in 1819, and ordered to sail for Rio de Janeiro; but such an order was much more easy to give than to execute. To get under sail a vessel of that tonnage, an adequate crew was necessary; and the Portuguese navy had been so much neglected and so miserably paid, or rather not paid at all, that no seamen would voluntarily serve in it. Press-gangs were accordingly set on foot in all parts of the city; and upon the same principle that in France at certain seasons of the year all dogs are killed who are found unmuzzled, so all young men, seamen or landmen, servants or journeymen, nightmen or coachmen, who were found without a certificate of exemption in their pockets, were themselves pocketed, and sent in irons to serve as volunteers on board the João Sêzto. With such a crew, it is not surprising that the ship was seven months in moving down from her moorings opposite the city to those off Belem Castle. She would perhaps have gone a mile further, but that a small insurgent privateer appeared off the Tago, landed her cargo, for water near the Cascades, and did not leave the river's mouth without sending menaces to this little corsair had even the audacity to land, come up to Lisbon unknown, and go to the theatre. Before he returned to the vicinity of Cascaes, he sent his compliments to several shipowners, adding that he hoped to have the pleasure of soon meeting on their way to India some of their fine vessels, which he observed were nearly ready to put to sea. From the Belem moorings another grand attempt was made to get the Don John a little nearer to the mouth of the Tago.

The volunteers then imagining that no other hope of escape remained for them, and that when so far down the river they must needs go further, no sooner saw themselves, opposite St. Joao de Ribamar (about a mile from Belem) than they, to the number of se-

THE AMERICAN FARMER

Is a neat Weekly Periodical, published at this Establishment, by I. IRVINE

HITCHCOCK, Proprietor.—G1

DEON B. SMITH, Editor.

This work is devoted exclusively to the interest of the American cultivator of the soil. It treats of practical Agriculture, Horticulture, and Rural and Domestic Economy. Its contents consist mainly of original articles, written expressly for it, by intelligent practical farmers residing in all parts of the Union, detailing not only the theories, but the actual practice in every department of husbandry. It contains also a great number of useful recipes; so much of the news as relates to the foreign and domestic markets for Agricultural products, and a current statement of their prices current in both, at the time of publication, but being connected with party politics is at any time permitted to appear in its columns. Farms, Agricultural Stock, productions, machines, and implements, are advertised, noticed, or described, many of which are illustrated by expensive engravings. The American Farmer is very neatly printed on fine paper, in quarto form, with a direct view to the practical farmer. The numbers for a year make a handsome volume of 416 pages, and the last one is accompanied by a title page and a copious and minute index. When a number fails of reaching a subscriber, or becomes damaged in the mail, another shall be sent, if the subscriber will send back the date from No. 1 of the volume, as the back numbers when sent, but cannot in all cases be made up after the year is ended.

The current volume of year, is the fourteenth of its publication, and few American periodicals circulate more extensively. Any gentleman desiring to receive the work, should be gratified on furnishing the publisher with his address, for that purpose. Communications and advertisements connected with any of the subjects of the work, will be gratefully received and promptly attended to. In order to render the Farmer pleasant and profitable to its publisher and its patrons, it is hoped the gentleman who subscribes, will practically to the necessity and propriety of a careful compliance with the following

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

1. Price five dollars per annum: due at the middle of each year of subscription, provided that no balance of a former year remain unpaid.
2. The manner of payment which is preferable to any other for distant subscribers, is remittance by mail of current Bank notes; and to obviate all objection to this mode, the publisher assumes the risk.
3. Subscriptions are always charged by the year, and never for a shorter term. When once sent to a subscriber, the paper will not be discontinued (except at the discretion of the publisher) without a special order, on receipt of which, a discontinuance will be entered, to take effect at the end of the current year of subscription.
4. Price of Extras.—One dollar per square, and in the same proportion for more than a square, or more than one insertion.

AGENTS.

All Postmasters are requested to act as agents for the Farmer, and to require a strict compliance by subscribers with the above terms, especially the third item. They are authorized to retain $1 for each new subscriber, and 10 per cent. on all other collections. The list of special agents is published in the Farmer on the first Friday in each month.

THE FARMER

IN VOLUMES AND COMPLETE SETS.

Many subscribers receive the work in bound volumes, when completed, instead of weekly by mail. The advantage of this method is, that the work is preserved clean and neat, the paper being protected and not discolored by having been folded and sent by mail. The price, payment and terms of the work in this form, are the same as when sent by mail. Directions for sending the volume must be explicit. The current subscription list, as well as copies beyond the current subscription list, but at all times been printed, and of some of the volumes a second, and even a third edition have been issued, yet such has been the demand for the back volumes, that only a small number of full sets (complete from the commencement) can now be made.

The price of the work in sets is Five Dollars per volume; half bound, and lettered. Most of the volumes may be had single at the same price.

REMARKS.

The following is an extract from an editorial notice which appeared recently in a highly respectable journal. It expresses precisely the sentiment that has been repeatedly uttered by many of the most enlightened farmers of our country, as well as by nearly all of its contemporary periodicals:—
"The American Farmer" has reached its fourteenth year, and although we have been familiar with its pages from the commencement, it still increases in interest, the great subject on which it is engaged is not exhausted. Some may be disposed to ask what new lights can be shed upon agriculture at this late period, and after all that has already appeared in various works upon the subject, what new and practical knowledge? Such we refer to the pages of the "Farmer" from its commencement, and in every number they will find enough not only to reward them for their time and labour, but in many single numbers information of sufficient value to compensate them for a year's subscription."

NOTICE.

THIS subscriber wishes to purchase four or five man hands for a term of years; also to hire three or four hands, for which he will give Seventy Dollars per year. Those at a distance can address, through the Annapolis Post Office, to

GENERAL AGRICULTURAL & HORTICULTURAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Comprising, a Seed and Implement Store, a General Agricultural Agency, and the Office of THE AMERICAN FARMER, in the basement of Barnum's City Hotel, Baltimore: in connexion with a Stock and Experimental Farm, a Garden and Nursery in the vicinity.

I. IRVINE HITCHCOCK and GIDEON B. SMITH

HAVE commenced the above named establishment, and solicit for the attention and patronage of farmers, gardeners, nurserymen, and the public generally. The objects we have particularly in view, are two:—First, to keep and furnish to all who will favour us with their custom,

GARDEN AND FIELD SEEDS

of the very best quality; and second, to procure from all possible sources, foreign and domestic, such things as promise to be of utility to our country, to supply their place, and to aid in the improvement of our climate and soil, and if found valuable, to disseminate them over the country.

The latter of these objects is the legitimate end and purpose of Agricultural and Horticultural Societies, the want of which in this country, part of the United States being severely felt, we have undertaken to supply their place, as far as lies in our power. In pursuance of this determination, we have attached to the Farmer Establishment an on which G. B. S. has located himself, and to the superintendence of which he will, in connection with his editorial duties, devote his attention. Another principal branch of our farming operations, will be the cultivation for the Store, of every valuable kind of GARDEN SEEDS, to which our climate is adapted; and for this purpose, such preparation has been made, by the importation and collection of the most excellent kind, as shall insure the good quality of all we shall produce; so that the most implicit reliance may at all times be placed upon the excellence and goodness of kind, as well as upon the freshness and good quality of all seeds bearing the label of this establishment.

As time and means permit, we shall establish an

and further extend and improve our FRUIT and FLOWER GARDEN; and in the management of these departments, as in that of Garden Seeds, we shall attend more to the good quality of the productions than to the number of our varieties;—for we are well aware that half a dozen really good kinds are worth more than half a hundred that are merely passable.

An extensive assortment of BOOKS and PERIODICALS on Agricultural, Horticultural, and Veterinary subjects, will be always on our shelves, or at our command.

AGENCY.

Any of the above mentioned articles, also

FIELD SEEDS of all kinds, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINES, DOMESTIC ANIMALS of choice kinds or improved breeds, FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL TREES, SHRUBS, PLANTS, Vines, ROOTS, &c.

shall, when not on hand, be procured on order, from any place designated, or if left to our selection, from that which we deem best for the article ordered. (In the latter case we hold ourselves responsible for the quality.) We are special agents for most of the principal nursery and gardening establishments in the United States, which are—Prichard & Sons, at Framlingham, Essex, England; J. M. Brooks, at New York; G. Carter, and H. Brown, at New York; and generally for all of the best nurserymen in the United States, and for most of the above named establishments, may be had from us gratis.
